

MOSES & SONS

7 Street
Corner Eleventh

There's no doubt but that our present DINING CHAIR stock shows the biggest values that have been put forth in this department. Solid Oak Dining Chair, box frame, new style cane seat, a chair you would agree was worth $3.25. Price, $2.20.

Another, similar in design, in solid oak and mahogany finish—a $2.75 value—for $1.90.

"I want to be the Jeweler who comes into your mind first."

The wise woman selects her Xmas gifts when stocks are complete. She has them reserved for her by making a small payment down. She shops here for Jewelry.

C. H. DAVISON,
1105 F Street.

Established July, 1878.

Lace Curtains

... must be handled carefully in the wash. We know it and act accordingly. We don't use any harsh chemicals, and we always use the best quality of lace. We have a large stock of lace curtains, and we are always ready to take orders. We have a large stock of lace curtains, and we are always ready to take orders.

TOLMAN STEAM LAUNDRY.
512 8th St. N.W.

IN ITS FORTY-THIRD YEAR

Interesting Anniversary Services
held by Y. M. C. A.

Many Local Clergymen Spoke Words of Encouragement and Praise to the Society.

The forty-third anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington was celebrated last night at Foundry M. E. Church, Fourteenth and G streets northwest.

The exercises opened with organ voluntaries by Prof. William K. Cohen, and the singing of the hymn, "O, Praise Our God Today," by the congregation.

The Rev. J. G. Butler, D. D., made the invocation, and the address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. D. A. Brown, pastor of Foundry Church.

Mr. D. F. Harris, acting secretary, presented a resume of the work of the association. The subject of his remarks was, "A Look Into the Past."

He stated that the association's property, 1409 New York avenue northwest, was entirely free from debt, and added that less than one thousand dollars is due for current expenses.

Mr. Harris submitted the following statistics regarding attendance during the month of October: 45,000. Out of the number 45,000 professed conversion and many others promised to lead Christian lives, as a result of these meetings. There were 452 sessions of educational classes, comprising 20 studies, at which the attendance was 13,373, including 333 individual students. The total attendance in the gymnasium was 25,581. At the Y. M. C. A. building, 2,129 persons attended, while the lectures and parlor talks were listened to by 1,899. Eight social gatherings of members resulted in an attendance of 1,797. The benefits of the reading-room and parlors were enjoyed by 47,723 persons.

"The receipts were as follows: From membership, $4,950; contributions, $3,609; miscellaneous, $4,057; making a total of $12,616.

"The expenses amounted to $13,268."

When Mr. Harris finished reading his report, the congregation sang "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and a collection was taken up to defray the expenses of the meeting.

Rev. George Elliott of Boston, formerly pastor of Foundry Church, was introduced. He delivered the anniversary address, entitled: "The New Generation and Our Debt to It."

Prior to the address he made a few remarks in which he eulogized the late secretary of the association, Mr. James E. Pugh. He told of an instance where he had promised Mr. Pugh that he would not speak before any organization in Washington until he had addressed the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Elliott was roundly applauded as he ceased speaking.

Rev. T. S. Haulin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, was the next speaker. He said in part that the efficiency of the association lies with the individual members and not with the officers. He asked all the members to work hard and build up the future of the association.

HAWAIIAN SCIENTIST-DANGER

Increasing Japanese Population Causes Some Alarm.

A BIG RIOT IN JAPTOWN

Consul Shimamura, Mikado's New Representative, Is Charged With a Special Mission to Remove the Check on Japanese Immigration. Finances of the Republic.

Honolulu, Nov. 6.—via San Francisco, Nov. 12.—The new Japanese consul general, Consul Shimamura, has just arrived here. He has been sent here on a special mission to remove the check on Japanese immigration. The consul is a man of high standing in Japan, and he is expected to bring with him a large number of Japanese immigrants. The Japanese government is very anxious to increase its population, and it is expected that the consul will be able to do this.

On the evening of November 4, over 100 Japanese in Japtown were engaged in a riot. The riot was caused by the Japanese consul's arrival. The Japanese consul is a man of high standing in Japan, and he is expected to bring with him a large number of Japanese immigrants. The Japanese government is very anxious to increase its population, and it is expected that the consul will be able to do this.

The Vancouver barrier, Davis, said for home on November 4, taking a large number of Japanese in the case of rioting and murder, who claim damages for their deportation. The evidence was very full in showing that the consul, Shimamura, and his followers, the Japanese consul, were very active in an effort to enlist the Japanese consul in the conspiracy to restore the consul.

It was also stated that the last two had no probable occupation, and suffered no material injury by deportation.

FINANCES OF STATE.

Finance Minister's monthly report shows an increase over October, 1894, of about $50,000, in both expenditures and receipts. The treasury balance is about $150,000 less than last year. There is also about $20,000 more of outstanding dues. In view of the heavy expenses and the suspension of business during the year, growing out of the insurrection and cholera, these figures are considered highly favorable.

Judge Henry E. Cooper succeeds the new minister of justice, Francis M. Hatch, as minister of foreign affairs.

HAS JAPAN DESIGNS?

Her Attitude Toward Hawaii as Constructed Here.

The dispatches from Honolulu which state that the Japanese government is dissatisfied with Hawaii because of the alleged failure of the latter government to respect the terms of the immigration treaty with Japan, excite some attention here in view of the known desire of the Japanese people to acquire possessions of the Hawaiian Islands.

The population is a very mixed one. The natives, half-breed and half-caste, number about 40,000; there are 25,000 Japanese, 15,000 Chinese, and 50,000 whites, the latter being mainly Americans. The Japanese government has disclaimed any desire to acquire Hawaii, but the common people are possessed of the idea, and it is feared they may compel their government to take some aggressive steps looking to the acquisition of the country.

It is pointed out that Japan, who was the Japanese consul's general at Honolulu when Queen Liliuokalani was deposed, was an intimate friend of Mr. Paul Newman, who was the queen's confidential adviser, and that upon his return to Japan, after the provisional government was established, he carried with him a strong prejudice against the Hawaiian Islands.

Japan is a very important power in the Pacific, and it is openly asserted here that its influence is all against the present government and in favor of the annexation of the islands. So great was the fear in Honolulu that the numerical strength of the Japanese would give them a preponderating power in the country, that the effect was seen in the preparation of the national constitution.

NO ONE CLAIMS THE BODY.

Unknown Who Died at Morgue.

Resting on a slab and with a cotton sheet for a shroud, there lies in the morgue the body of an unknown man who died from an unknown cause. There is nothing on the body to indicate who he was, and no one claims the body. A mystery hangs over the body.

Scores of questioning glances have been cast into the pincush, cold, early this morning, and the body has been examined, and the chances seem to be that the body will be found to rest in the field with much more than the trifle of a sigh.

The coroner will hold an inquest today, now in an effort to determine the cause of death. In the absence of facts, the police have moved a number of theories as to how the man died.

Mother and child have been suggested, but just yet there seems to be no foundation for these theories can rest. A woman was sent in to the Fifth precinct station at ten minutes past 6 o'clock on Monday evening and a sick man was picked out of the street. He was too ill to render any account of himself. He did not seem to be in pain. Some one saw him said that he looked like a man suffering from an apoplexy. He had roused and seemed only half-conscious.

He was laid on cushions in the patrol wagon and taken to Providence Hospital. That night, before the physicians had time to diagnose his case, he died. He passed off without speaking to any of the people near him. His pockets were turned inside out, and his clothing searched for identification marks, but without avail.

The hospital people notified Coroner Hammett, and after stating the case asked for instructions as to what disposition should be made of the body.

Coroner Hammett directed that it be taken to the morgue, and there it has since lain. A man who claimed that he had a brother looked at the body last night, but was not certain as to whose the body was. He said that it bore resemblance to his brother. This man was under the influence of liquor and gave him the name of Reagan. The police attach no credence to what he said. The body is that of a man about fifty years old, with a high forehead, blue eyes, and brown hair. The features seem to have shrunk quite a good deal since death. The body will be buried after the autopsy tomorrow.

Rowdy Boys Locked Up.

An anonymous letter was received at police station No. 4 yesterday afternoon, in which a vigorous complaint was made against the boys who assemble at the corner of Thirteenth and A streets southwest and make night hideouts by their rowdyism. Officers Price and Green made a descent on the gang last night and locked up the following named boys in Cherry prison: Alfred Adams, fourteen years old; Joseph Watson, sixteen; and Thomas Martin, fourteen.

Car Disturber Caught.

Early Wednesday morning Thomas Walsh, colored, twenty-two years old, created a disturbance on board a Metropolitan electric car, on Fourth and A-half street southwest. He insulted the passengers and assaulted Conductor E. N. McElvaine, when the latter sought to eject him. A policeman was headed for the scene, and catching a glimpse of him, Walsh ran off. Last night Policemen Neale and Mullen landed Walsh and charged him with assault and disorderly conduct.

DO NOT put your money into a "too-cheap" article—it's the worst kind of extravagance. $10 is really as little as you ought to pay for a suit ordinarily; every honest dealer'll tell you so.

There's lots of people whose trade we value that can't afford to pay that much these times—so we're going to give 'em a treat—one they'll long remember us for—and one that'll probably keep 'em trading here for years and years to come. We've marked some regular $10 suits $7.50. They're strictly all wool and perfect fitting—and come in 5 different patterns—3 Scotch mixtures, a plain blue and a plain black chevot.

Come in and try one on—see if we've exaggerated their worth one bit. Are you ready for an Overcoat? We've got about a hundred different kinds we'd like to show you.

Eiseman Bros.,
Cor. 7th and E Sts. N. W.
No Branch Store in Washington.

GOT A RESTRAINING ORDER

Capital Traction Company Temporarily Enjoins Metropolitan.

Work on Florida Avenue, Between Seventh and Ninth, Not to Be Begun Until the Cause Is Heard.

The Capital Traction Company yesterday filed a petition in the equity court for an order restraining the Metropolitan Railway Company from operating under a permit granted by the District Commissioners for the occupation of Florida avenue between Seventh and Ninth streets, for the extension of the former company's electric conduit.

A temporary restraining order was granted by Judge Hagler and will be argued on Monday.

The extension of the Capital Traction Company's line from Seventh street to North Capitol street will be seriously impeded, from the fact that it is impracticable to run the cars on the street, and that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street.

It is further declared that under the act of Congress, approved February 26, 1885, it was provided that the two companies should have the right to contract with each other for the control of joint occupation of Florida avenue, and this, it claims, should now be renewed.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

DO NOT put your money into a "too-cheap" article—it's the worst kind of extravagance. $10 is really as little as you ought to pay for a suit ordinarily; every honest dealer'll tell you so.

There's lots of people whose trade we value that can't afford to pay that much these times—so we're going to give 'em a treat—one they'll long remember us for—and one that'll probably keep 'em trading here for years and years to come. We've marked some regular $10 suits $7.50. They're strictly all wool and perfect fitting—and come in 5 different patterns—3 Scotch mixtures, a plain blue and a plain black chevot.

Come in and try one on—see if we've exaggerated their worth one bit. Are you ready for an Overcoat? We've got about a hundred different kinds we'd like to show you.

Eiseman Bros.,
Cor. 7th and E Sts. N. W.
No Branch Store in Washington.

GOT A RESTRAINING ORDER

Capital Traction Company Temporarily Enjoins Metropolitan.

Work on Florida Avenue, Between Seventh and Ninth, Not to Be Begun Until the Cause Is Heard.

The Capital Traction Company yesterday filed a petition in the equity court for an order restraining the Metropolitan Railway Company from operating under a permit granted by the District Commissioners for the occupation of Florida avenue between Seventh and Ninth streets, for the extension of the former company's electric conduit.

A temporary restraining order was granted by Judge Hagler and will be argued on Monday.

The extension of the Capital Traction Company's line from Seventh street to North Capitol street will be seriously impeded, from the fact that it is impracticable to run the cars on the street, and that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street.

It is further declared that under the act of Congress, approved February 26, 1885, it was provided that the two companies should have the right to contract with each other for the control of joint occupation of Florida avenue, and this, it claims, should now be renewed.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

The fact that the Capital Traction Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, and that the Metropolitan Railway Company has refused to accede to any proposition for a joint use of the street, is further declared.

BIBLE, FIRST AND LAST

Rev. Dr. Wilson's Summation of Ideal Sunday-School Work.

JESUS THE MODEL TEACHER

Interesting and Instructive Discourses Before the Union Sunday-School Convention—Election of Officers and Delegates—Resolutions of Thanks to All the Union's Friends.

The closing session of the District of Columbia Sunday School convention was held last night at Calvary Baptist Church. A great deal of business was transacted and a program of lectures, songs, and educational interest was carried out.

The exercises were under the conduct of President P. H. Bristow. Mr. Percy Foster led the singing, the pianist being Mrs. Frank Byram. The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. George N. Lucecock.

One of the most important matters of business was the election of officers, delegates to the international convention, and an executive committee.

Resolutions were passed by a committee composed of Messrs. A. M. McLean, H. M. Snook, Miss L. B. Nowlin and Mr. S. W. Smith.

The following was the result of the elections: President, P. H. Bristow, First Vice President, L. B. Nowlin, Second Vice President, C. H. Carrington, Secretary, J. H. Johnson, Treasurer, Dr. D. P. Perry, Recording Secretary, Mr. W. F. Fling, Mr. W. W. Woodard, A. M. McLean, Dr. J. H. Hena, Rev. F. A. Stier, H. M. Snook, R. H. Luedke, Dr. W. W. Warren, Washington, T. H. Martin, J. L. Ewin, R. M. Henderson, W. A. Dodge, J. A. Scott, Rev. Stanley Belknap.

Resolutions were passed of thanks to First Congregational and Calvary Baptist Church to the president and officers of the union, to Mr. Percy Foster, the Rev. J. L. Ewin for his able and valuable services, and to the press. The resolutions contained the home department of the Sunday School Union.

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that as soon as practicable steps should be taken looking to a house to house visitation in the interest of Sunday School work."

"Resolved, That all moneys in the hands of the treasurer be considered one fund for the general expenses of the union."

"Resolved, That we appeal to pastors and Sunday School superintendents, and teachers of all denominations to give us their aid and sympathy, and assist us in a large measure through organization."

"Resolved, That greetings and sympathy be sent to Mr. B. T. Jacobs, of Chicago, the chairman of the international executive committee."

"Resolved, That the delegates to the international convention at Boston in June, 1896, be instructed to vote, when occasion requires, in favor of the uniform system of lessons, as prepared by the international lesson committee."

"Resolved, That a committee of seven be appointed to consider the practicability of inviting the triennial international convention to hold its 1896 session in Washington."

"Resolved, That the executive committee elected at this convention be requested to secure for Sunday School excursions a steamer and excursion place, free from the sale of liquor, and that exclusive patronage be given to such places."

NEEDS OF THE WORK.

Rev. Dr. Green, pastor of Calvary Church, spoke on the "Needs of the Work." Among these he noted a clearer appreciation on our part as Christians and Sunday-school workers of the just relation in which we stand to the children of the world.

Second, a clearer recognition of the fact that the Sunday-school is the only institution of the city of Washington for education of the young and resultant benefits upon the whole community.

The theme of Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, of the New York Avenue Church, was the "Scholar's Preparation." This he discussed from three points of view: the condition of expectancy to be created in the pupil, then his legitimate task, then his environment, next the lesson to be preceded by worship, and finally the lesson to be followed by prayer.

President Whitman, of Columbian University, discussed the preparation of the teacher. He laid stress on the bodily condition of the teacher. Men and women engaged by late Saturday night work, to satisfy the exigencies of their employers, were in no condition for teaching, the responsibility for which rested with the employers.

He next spoke of the mental preparation, the mind to be concentrated on the work. Next the preparation of the heart; then the preparation of the lesson; fifth, the message on the point of the lesson, and lastly, the ability to lift the soul to its God.

ENDS TO BE ATTAINED.

Rev. Dr. L. R. Wilson, presiding elder of the district, always an interesting speaker, treated his subject last night with conspicuous, earnest distinctness and conviction. He treated of the "Alpha and Omega" of Sunday-school work. This he said, was Christ, a thought which he developed to the convention that the model of all truth and teaching was He who was the end toward which church and Sunday-school alike were moving.

Mr. Bristow moved a vote of thanks to the hosts of the city for their attendance at the meeting, carried.

The benediction was by the Rev. Dr. Whitman.

The following complete list of delegates to the convention:

First Congregational Sunday-school—Miss Grace Johnson.

Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Sunday-school—Mr. A. E. Miley, Mr. T. W. Talmadge, Mr. W. Peattie, Mr. W. E. Wright, Mr. G. W. Gray, Miss Bertha Adams, Miss Lou, Miss Jennie Withers, Miss Hattie Fague, Miss May Tuttle, Thomas H. McKee, superintendent.

Tenth Street (S. E.) Methodist Episcopal Sunday-school—William Matthis, William Bennett.

BIBLE, FIRST AND LAST

Rev. Dr. Wilson's Summation of Ideal Sunday-School Work.

JESUS THE MODEL TEACHER

Interesting and Instructive Discourses Before the Union Sunday-School Convention—Election of Officers and Delegates—Resolutions of Thanks to All the Union's Friends.

The closing session of the District of Columbia Sunday School convention was held last night at Calvary Baptist Church. A great deal of business was transacted and a program of lectures, songs, and educational interest was carried out.

The exercises were under the conduct of President P. H. Bristow. Mr. Percy Foster led the singing, the pianist being Mrs. Frank Byram. The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. George N. Lucecock.

One of the most important matters of business was the election of officers, delegates to the international convention, and an executive committee.

Resolutions